June 19, 2008

Committee Tour of the Crozet Old School

June 19-21

Albemarle County sponsored a community workshop, conducted by consultants PMA Planners + Architects, to provide an opportunity for the Crozet community to identify potential new uses for the Old Crozet School building and site. Ideas were also submitted through the County's website.

June 19, 7:00-9:00 p.m.

kickoff: PMA gave a brief overview of the project, along with examples of successful school re-use projects in other communities around Virginia. Citizens then worked in small groups to brainstorm re-use ideas specific to the Crozet Old School. As the small groups shared their ideas with the larger group, PMA listed the ideas on large sheets of paper and posted them on the walls around the room. After the unique ideas were shared, recorded and posted, citizens used dots to indicate their favorites.

June 20, 10:00 a.m.-6:00 p.m.; June 21, 9:00 a.m.-3:00 p.m.: Citizens had the opportunity to drop in and discuss their ideas with PMA in a less formal setting. During this time, PMA architects were also working on conceptual drawings representing how citizen ideas and priorities might fit together in the building/on the site.
