What’s being done to help streams in the Charlottesville area?

Wade on over to the Albemarle County Office Building on McIntire Road on June 16th to learn more about local stream health, a community-supported water quality study, and how local organizations are already working to improve rivers and streams in Charlottesville and Albemarle County.

Everyone is welcome to attend!

When: Tuesday, June 16 at 6.30pm

Where: Room 241, Albemarle County Office Building, 401 McIntire Rd., Charlottesville

What: A community meeting will be held to review current stream conditions, discuss the development and results of a water quality study on Moores Creek, Lodge Creek, Meadow Creek and Schenks Branch, and explain restoration efforts already underway by local organizations and governments.

For more information, please contact Tara Sieber, VADEQ, at tara.sieber@deq.virginia.gov or 540.574.7870.

Also, check out the Virginia Department of Environmental Quality’s website: http://www.deq.virginia.gov/Programs/Water/WaterQualityInformationTMDLs/TMDL/TMDLDevelopment.aspx