Albemarle County is holding a community workshop on July 30, 2007, to begin gathering public input for the Village of Rivanna Master Plan. This is the start of a several-month process that will help guide how the Village of Rivanna community grows and develops, and we want you to be an integral part of that process. The community is a critical partner in creating a successful framework for the future of the Village of Rivanna area—

We hope to see you there!
